

JobsFirstNYC Website Privacy Policy

The following policy governs JobsFirstNYC's use of information we may collect from third party institutions or individuals. This policy is available for full display and review in a conspicuous location on our website, and can/is furnished upon request for any interested parties. This policy is also included among those in our fiscal policy, organization policy and employee policy manuals.

In visiting our website, or in furnishing us with information, you acknowledge having read and accepted JobsFirstNYC's online privacy policy. If you do not agree with this privacy policy, please do not use the site. Our privacy policy is subject to change. Any changes will be posted on this page so we encourage you to check this page regularly. Your continued use of this site following any changes to JobsFirstNYC's online privacy policy will constitute your acceptance of such changes.

- JobsFirstNYC is committed to respecting your privacy.
- JobsFirstNYC does not collect personally identifiable information from you, unless you provide it voluntarily and knowingly. For example, if you register for an event or sign up to receive emails, we may ask for your name, mailing address, telephone number and email address. JobsFirstNYC uses the collected information to process your request, to respond to your questions and for internal purposes. If at any time you would like to have your personal information removed from our database, please send an email request to admin@jobsfirstnyc.org or by clicking on the "unsubscribe" button on our website.
- When making a donation through our website, your information is collected and managed by NYCharities.org. NYCharities.org uses a secure server and encryption designed to help protect your credit card number and other personal information. NYCharities.org's privacy policy: www.nycharities.org/Resources/PrivacyPolicy.aspx
- JobsFirstNYC does not and will not sell, share or rent information about you to other agencies or companies. However, JobsFirstNYC will comply with requests by law enforcement or other government agencies for information as part of an investigation. JobsFirstNYC may also disclose your information when we determine it is necessary to the interests or safety of JobsFirstNYC or other visitors to the site. If JobsFirstNYC is sold to, or merges with another organization or company, or declares bankruptcy, some or all of the information collected from you may be transferred to a third party as a result of the transfer of assets or related organizational information.
- JobsFirstNYC may collect usage information, such as the number and frequency of visitors to this site, website browsing patterns, IP address or demographic information, not associated with an identifiable individual. This collective data allows us to improve our website, and is never information we share with outside parties.
- JobsFirstNYC's privacy policy only applies to your use of the JobsFirstNYC website. The site contains links to other sites. We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of these sites. Links to other sites do not imply an endorsement of the material or policies of those website. You should read the privacy policies of each site you visit to determine what information they may be collecting.
- While JobsFirstNYC uses reasonable security measures, the organization is not liable for any damages or injury that may result from use of this website, its contents or a linked site. JobsFirstNYC also makes no representation that services provided by this website will be uninterrupted, error-free, or that the website or server that hosts the website are free from viruses or other forms of harmful code.

If you have any questions or comments regarding this privacy policy, please contact us at info@jobsfirstnyc.org.